Not illustrated. 1914 Excerpt: .of results takes account of the conditions said to precede actual cancer, such as tobacco blisters, white spots and sore places about the teeth. While there is difference of opinion as to the bearing of such conditions on the development of true cancer it cannot be denied that in many cases a causal relation seems to exist. In using the term precancerous lesions, however, and in considering the result of operations to remove them, it is wise to make the reservation that these conditions are not always followed by the development of true cancer, and the statistics should be understood in that light. In operations on the tongue the figures show that the prompt removal of the precancerous or benign lesion resulted in 100 per cent. of cures. In the second stage, i. e., that of malignant warts, complete removal was equally effective. But when the...
