Excerpt: .before a possessor can acquire title by ten years limitation. 1. That a trespasser cannot acquire title by limitation. The correctness of a charge must be determined in view of the facts of the case in which it is given. One is a trespasser who enters upon the land of another and cuts down and carries away timber from time to time; and he does not cease to be such, and does not acquire any right, however long he may continue such acts. One who enters upon the land of another, without right, and ereets houses and opens fields thereon, continuously occupying the houses and using the land for all such purposes as the land is adapted to, is equally a trespasser. But if this condition of affairs is permitted by the owner to continue for the period prescribed by the statute, without interruption...
