Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Hand of the Potter The top floor - flat of Aaron Berchansky in the crowded Jewish section of the Upper East Side of New York City, In this instance the dining and living rooms are one. Forward of left center a door, giving out into the general hall, where occasionally noises of tenants going to and fro on the stairs below can be heard. Bach of this door a little way, and against the wall, a cheap yellow bookcase filled with more or less shabby books, old magazines and papers. On the top of this bookcase, center, an old-fashioned wooden clock which ticks noisily whenever other sounds cease; to its right, facing it, a five-branch candlestick of brass containing half-burned candles. Right center, a window with a fire-escape giving into a court, and beyond this court the whitewashed wall and window of another apartment, obviously vacant.
